...and more!

World class specialists will share best practices in providing care and support to children, converging on a child centred approach from intake, assessment and risk-identification to multidisciplinary interventions in law and social work.

Every child has a right to be raised in a loving and stable family context.

The child welfare community can use the law to ensure all children grow up in permanent families and to challenge the high numbers of children growing up in institutional care.

The Child Protection Conference aims to:

- connect and equip child welfare professionals in Hong Kong and across the Asia Pacific region with knowledge of emerging best practices in child welfare;
- support interdisciplinary approaches to child protection and to promote innovation.
